Tiscali unleashes the real power of DSL at Comms Channel Expo

- Unique QoDSL and new teleworker solution makes Tiscali channel proposition unbeatable -

April 12 2005, Comms Channel Expo, Birmingham. Tiscali comes to Comms Channel Expo this year to again demonstrate its expertise in DSL and IPVPN solutions tailored to give channel partners a key market advantage.

QoDSL

Recently launched, Tiscali will be demonstrating Quality of Service Over DSL, a market first that enables the professional and affordable implementation of VoIP and many other applications by guaranteeing minimum bandwidth for critical applications. The company's simple QoS demonstration will prove that channel partners can now offer SLGs previously unfeasible for DSL based solutions, because of Tiscali's expertise in DataStream DSL.

QoDSL enables the extension of a corporate WAN to the smallest of operations and makes WAN-like corporate solutions available to smaller operations and remote workers.

Teleworking

The natural extension of QoS, Tiscali will debut its Teleworker Solutions, packaged to give secure and versatile access for occasional or permanent home-based workers. For the first time, these applications become affordable for a whole new generation of workers and supports the trend for more flexible working. They also support European and Government employment initiatives.

Tiscali Partners at Comms Channel Expo

Tiscali will be demonstrating QoS in collaboration with Cisco, and announcing new services in partnership with Phillips and Alcatel at Comms Channel Expo.

Invitation to meet Tiscali at Comms Channel Expo

Tiscali will be located at the VIP area and invites press to talk to our key executives and partners. Either come and have a drink with us from 3.30 on 12 April, or schedule a demonstration / briefing on 12 or 13 April.
